THE BOY FROM THE HICK TOWN

The so-called hick town has lately become a source of great inspiration to our professional humorists.

A hick town, say the various users of this convenient formula, is a place where a backfire is never mistaken for a pistol shot; where bedtime is orthodox; where woodpeckers eat up the depot; where central can tell you whether it was a girl or a boy; where the neighbors will supply you with a conscience if you lack one; where there is no parking problem; where a curfew disturbs the residents' rest; where fine cut tobacco is no handicap socially, and so on and on.

With no intention of becoming terribly heavy over the matter, we want to add that a hick town is a place where 26 of our 29 presidents were born and where seven out of 10 of the immortals in New York's national hall of fame originated. A hick town that didn't have a name produced Lincoln. Hick towns gave us most of our great literary figures of the past and practically all of those now living. Hick towns produce our Edisons.

If we may, then we would like to suggest that a hick town is a place where a boy has an excellent opportunity to lay the foundation of future greatness.

THE AGE OF CONCENTRATION

Back in 1889 the epithet "billion-dollar congress" was flung at the first congress to pass the billion-dollar mark in its appropriations. Congress' retort was: "This is a billion-dollar country."

Wall street financiers, who thought in millions back in 1900, were already thinking in billions by 1917. The "billion-dollar steel combine" is an old story, billion-dollar corporations being not uncommon today. Since the war the billionaire has made his appearance. And now comes the billion-dollar bank.

Two London banking institutions which reach out over all England through branch banks have deposits in excess of a billion dollars, and one New York bank, without the aid of branch banks, has deposits and resources both running into ten places.

There was a time, not so long ago, when the accumulation of such enormous resources in the hands of a single management was looked upon with misgiving—sometimes financial, sometimes political. Financially, however, the view taken nowadays is quite different.

It is recognized, especially from the way in which these huge institutions weathered the storm of 1920 and 1921, that great concentration of banking resources under, so to speak, a single roof with correspondingly wide diversification in their employment and investment, was a factor of strength, not weakness.

But banks today are managed differently than they were two decades ago and "concentration" has ceased to be a bugaboo.

About the only reason why there are fewer wicked standing in slippery places nowadays is that so many persons are driving.

The hammer, says an archeologist, was the first tool devised by man. Still, there must have been knockers even before that.

Among the world's rottenest sports are those who bring a child into the world and deny it the training that would give it a fair chance.

"Go slow" does not apply to the pedestrian in crossing a street.

Cornwells Heights

The fire company's supper on Saturday evening was the largest ever held. Altogether 900 suppers were served and the attendants were almost worn out with their exertions. The people of the neighborhood know what a delicious supper the ladies of the Auxiliary put up. It is worthy of being called a banquet and eagerly looked forward to.

On Saturday afternoon in the M. E. Parsonage Miss Ethel M. Sites, of Philadelphia, was united in marriage to Mr. Vernon Courtright, of Edgely, by the Rev. T. N. Hyde. Mrs. Price, a sister of the bride, and her husband and Mr. L. Barth were present at the ceremony. The happy couple expect to live in Edgely, where they are building a home.

CAR + RENT = A HOME

Being a Story of What Might Have Been

John Jones was an ordinary good citizen. He had a happy home (rented at so much per month), a good wife and two healthy, bustling youngsters.

Each month John paid the landlord $30.00, a moderate rental, and the Jones family was happy.

Came a time when John got the polished patter of the automobile salesman, $200.00 down and $40.00 a month he paid for his new "Four in Line" sedan.

For two years the Jones family enjoyed their new plaything. Then the Browns and the Grays flashed by in their "latest motor masterpiece," and the Joneses longed for more "zip," more speed, more cylinders, and four-wheeled brakes. Getting a new car was the answer.

But this time Jones happened to meet up with a real estate salesman. He talked—Jones listened—learned much and received a hard job. Translated into dollars and cents here was the jolt: His car, complete—plus freight, insurance and "extras," had cost him exactly $800.00. In the two years of steady running it had traveled over 7,000 miles at an average cost of five cents per mile—total $350.00.

In those same two years $1,200.00 had been spent for rent. Thus his expenditures for car and rent over the two years total amounted to $1,550.00. Allowing $300.00 for the present market value of the car meant a net expenditure of $1,250.00—with nothing to show.

An average home would cost approximately $5,000.00. That same amount of money put into a home would have meant a clear title in seven years—and then no further payments for rent.

The Jones family have returned to the stone house for their transportation—and are living on a home. Their former "carriage" business now becomes routine pay. The new car will come later.

particular class. We hope to be able to build citizens out of these boys through a regularly systematized program of athletics. And I know that if you folks would like to see real and genuine fun that is the place to go to on Saturday morning. You will see Americanism cut loose in the gymnasium there.

"Our program seems somewhat more extensive than it has been formerly and yet I think it is not broad enough to meet the conditions now that we have in all our schools. We are only meeting about one-fifth of the school children in the community in physical training. We would like to be able to meet all of them.

"I am sure that if a thorough physical examination were made of all the children we would find curvatures of the spine that could be corrected, round shoulders that could be squared, and at the same time offer beneficial physical training for the digestive and respiratory organs to function properly. And since health is essential to happiness, we would like to establish a program whereby we could make the weak strong and the strong stronger. And we hope to see the day when we shall be able to provide physical training and a sport for every boy and girl, with every boy and girl in that sport. I thank you."

BRISTOL HIGH LOSES TO
BERWYN; SCORE 27 TO 23

Bristol High lost to Berwyn at Berwyn yesterday by the score of 27 to 23. Playing on much smaller floor than the local gymnasium, Bristol was unable to pass with accuracy. Berwyn, however, knew the floor and so held a great advantage.

The game, due to the size of the floor, was very rough and not well played. Both teams found it necessary to try long shots at times. Hardy was eliminated by the personal foul route early in the third quarter and Bristol felt his loss, for soon after Berwyn scored a few field goals.

Wright for Bristol was high scorer with a total of eight points. Eachus for Berwyn tallied thirteen points to lead his team.

ST. ANN'S TO PLAY NO. 2 FIRE CO.

Monday night St. Ann's, Bristol's billiard champions, will start a tournament with No. 2 Fire Company, Fenimore and E. Allen will represent

No. 2, while C. Oriolo and Bornici will represent St. Ann's. The public is invited to see these games. The St. Ann's team would like to play any organization or fire company in town. Irwin Rodolph, Andrew Ponzi and Ralph Greenleaf, champion billiardists of the world, are expected to give exhibitions at the St. Ann's Club in the near future.

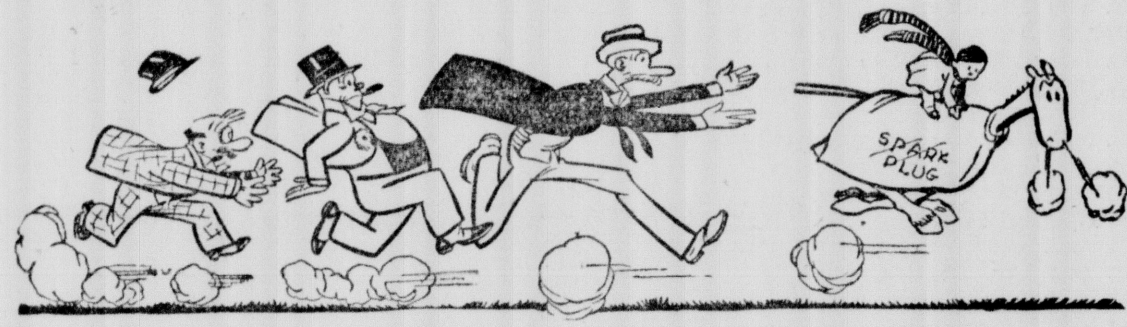

TRENT THEATRE

One of the outstanding events of the theatrical season of Trenton and vicinity will be the presentation next week, beginning Monday, March 7th, of "The Enemy," by members of the Trent Theatre Stock Company, at the Trent Theatre, Trenton. This play by the author of "The Fool," channing Pollock, has just completed an all-season's run at the Times Square Theatre, New York, and comes here by special arrangement with Mr. Pollock.

"The Enemy" tells an uncomplicated, simple story of how the World War affected the family and friends of a Viennese University professor. It is in no sense high-brow. It is not shot nor shell. It is a clear, concise human drama which will hold and thrill you. It is the appealing tale of great love, back of which is hidden a fine protest against the folly and futility of all sorts of hatreds, racial and religious. The Trent Theatre Company takes great pleasure in filling out of town orders for seat reservations.

500,000 Persons Now Prefer the Sunday PUBLIC LEDGER

Why?

One reason is that it contains "America's Greatest Comic Section" with 12 pages in full colors — 16 complete comics, including the leading headliners of the greatest newspapers in America. No other newspaper has such an all-star collection of popular fun-makers.

A Man Who Knows Car Values Wrote This—

"Why did I buy a Ford? Because it gives me all the transportation any car gives—and I have the satisfaction of knowing I'm getting 100 cents worth of real value out of every dollar of the purchase price."

The same high grade material in a Ford as in the Lincoln. Just a little more of it in the Lincoln—machined to a little greater precision—that's all.
